

Write a Sequel

After reading The Little Drummer Mouse, imagine what happens after the story. Write your own story about the mouse returning to the woods and what happens next.

The illustration shows an open book with two pages. The left page has a small mouse perched on its top edge. The right page has a small drum with two drumsticks on its bottom edge. Both pages are ruled with horizontal lines. The word "Title" is written on the left page, followed by a blank line for a title. The rest of the pages are blank for writing.

